The Best RAKE made. Does not scratch up the dirt like other rakes.

Mudgett Hay Tedder

We wish to call particular attention to this Tedder. It has been thoroughly tested, and proved to be all that we claim for it, a first-class machine. One of its strong points is the attachment of the fork. One hundred machines were in use two seasons, without breaking a single fork. It is extremely light and very simple. We believe it to be the best Tedder in the market, and earnestly solicit your examination of it before purchasing.

COHASSET.

Miss Carrie Taylor of East Boston is visiting at Cohasset.

Ex-Mayor Bruce of Somerville was at the Black Rock last week.

Mr. Wm. Eddy is building a gunning boat for E. C. Clark of Beach Island.

Miss Clara Bates of Boston, is visiting at her uncle's, Newcomb Bates, Esq.

Mr. A. E. Tibben has added to his establishment a carriage house at the head of the cove.

Mr. Wm. Eddy has repaired the light-house boiler so that visitors may ascend its spire.

Mr. Albert Pratt, of the firm of Awater and Pratt, Jacksonville, Ill., is visiting relatives here.

There was a little encounter in front of the Cohasset House Monday night. Rum did it.

The lumber wagon of Tower Bros. & Co. was captured at Cohasset, Tuesday morning, without material damage.

Miss Flora Martin, daughter of Gen. A. P. Martin, has been visiting her friend Miss Nellie B. Pope, at Jerusalem Road.

Messrs. E. H. Tower, David N. Pratt, Caleb Nichols, Geo. Bouve and Elw. Heyer have been spending their vacation in Cohasset.

Rev. G. Reynolds, secretary of the American Unitarian Association will preach at the First Church Sunday, in the interests of the association.

Arrivals of fishing schooners. At Portland, Fannie L. Nye, Capt. Gobbie, eggs tubs, Francis M. Loring, Capt. Edwards, 250 tubs. At Cohasset, Katie Hall, Capt. John, 250 tubs.

Miss Julia Gibson gave a lawn party Friday evening, 25 out on the grounds of her brother-in-law, Mr. Cyrus Bates. The affair was very successful and afforded much pleasure to those present.

Many persons were attracted to the house of Rev. Jos. Osgood on Wednesday evening to see a night-blooming cereus, which Mr. Osgood by careful cultivation had brought to the blooming stage.

The ladies of Cohasset are doing their utmost to equal, if not excel, the Scituate ladies in turkling articles for the tables at the Post fair. We advise the ladies of Scituate to bestir themselves or we shall win the race.

One who saw Jerusalem Road when the sewer was being constructed, would hardly recognize it at that point now. The road has been nicely smoothed over and what was once a bog on Mrs. Hollingsworth's place is being made in to a fine lawn.

The Silver Ice Pitcher and Butcher's kit, which have been on exhibition the past week at the Centennial House and Mitchell's Hotel, can now be seen at the Post Office, where Commodore Gross will be pleased to show them to all lovers of the beautiful. Do not fail to call and see.

Mr. Randall a liver y stable keeper at Nantasket has a horse and carriage to a party to visit the show of fireworks at Nantasket House Tuesday evening.

The horse became frightened at the fireworks and ran, smashing the wagon badly and making such good time that at last accounts he had not been heard from.

Mr. C. F. Tibben on Tuesday delivered to Mr. Amos E. Tibben a new large, called the Antelope. A careful inspection of this wagon will show what kind of a carriage can be manufactured in Cohasset. The work done at this factory we are sure will compare favorably with that from any other establishment in the country.

Those who have not visited Lily Pond should not fail to do so before the lilies are gone. Mr. Frank Cowell has a lot at the wharf, which he lets to those wishing to go. A party from the village visited the pond Wednesday morning and secured a fine lot of lilies. A party from So. Weymouth arrived at the same time last, about "the race is not always to the swift."

Lilies remaining in Post office August: Miss E. E. Allen, Jeremiah Boudle, Miss J. B. Bates, Alanson Briggs, Miss Mary E. Bishop, Messrs. Bennett, Brown, Capt. Geo. Cherry, Mr. Justin Carver, Mr. G.

W. Crocker, Messrs. Cyrus Benjamin & Son, Mr. Arthur Denney, Mr. Wm. Day, Jos. Drew, Michael Fougere, Miss Ellen Fitzgerald, Maria Jose Fortna, G. Grover, Mrs. Wm. W. Graham, Miss Mary Hanson, Mrs. M. M. Hammon, Miss M. A. Halpin, Mr. Wm. Hearn, Miss Anna Irving, Miss Mary Kelley, F. Kates, Karl Johansson, Murdoch Parker, Grace Co., Miss Nora Linney, Miss Anna O'Brien, Miss Mary O'Connor, Post Master, Mrs. A. T. Perkins, Mrs. Mary S. Prince, Mrs. M. L. TOWN MEETING.

A town meeting was held Monday the 31st at 4 P. M. The selectmen were authorized to execute in behalf of the town, a release of all claims the town may have against the executors, devisees or estate of John J. Lockney, late of Cohasset, deceased, for support already furnished, or that may be furnished hereafter to John J. Lothrop, son of said deceased, an insane pauper.

The selectmen were authorized to procure for the use of the town a quantity of second hand horse to be used at the hydrant on Jerusalem Road.

$200 was appropriated and the selectmen were authorized to expend the same as they might deem expedient for the suppression of the illegal sale of liquor in town.

ROBBERIES.

The depredations of the burghers have thrown Cohasset into a state of excitement from which it has not fully recovered. The selectmen have offered a reward of $500 for the detection of the thieves, and since police have been appointed and assigned to different parts of the town. The only bonafide robberies were at the houses of J. B. Moore and Mr. Gorman; other robberies were reported at houses on the Jerusalem road, but it seems to be pretty well proved that some of the hostlers have been working up an excitement of their own in order to profit by their slaring fancy and put to flight robbers who never existed.

As an instance of the feeling that has been awakened it may be related that on the day after the robbery a gentleman, while walking on Forest avenue, saw a man in light sleeves, standing in the woods with apparently no definite object. The gentleman, having a large sum of money about him, immediately got back on the Jerusalem road and gave the alarm, warning all children to keep away from the avenue. A careful examination, however, revealed the fact, that the suspicious person was no other than Mr. Washington Brown, mending his fences.

MARRIED.

In Northwich July 16, by Rev. E. R. Flood, Elmer E. Bates and Miss Mary E. Bates, both of Northwich.

DIED.

In Northwich, July 29, at the residence of David Brown, Charles F. Brown, son of Charles F. and Florence Brown of Boston, Highlands, 4 months, 29 days, 11 months.

In Cohasset, July 31, Mary Ellen, eldest daughter of Chas. F. Nichols, 25 years, 7 months.

In Boston, Aug. 1, Chas. H. Zerkow, 65 years.

In Hingham, July 29, Sarah L. Perkins, 1 year, 10 months.

In Hingham, July 31, George E. Lewis, 63 years, 3 months.

In Hingham, July 31, Sarah, wife of John Smith, daughter of the late David Andrews, 71 years, 8 months, 11 days.

In Northwich, July 31, Miss Florence A. Harding, 30 years.

Letter from M. Desert.

Bar Harbor, Me., July 31, 1882.

Dear Sir—

After a sumptuous repast in the palatial dining room of the Rock House, we have decided to repair to our elegant suite of one room on the first floor (from the roof) to give you a few points on Bar Harbor its customs and charms.

This afternoon, we made a buckboard excursion to the summit of Green Mountain, the highest point of land on Mt. Desert, and enjoyed a very fine view therefrom. We could see Mine's light very distinctly, and says, if he had thought to bring glasses, he thinks we would have had no difficulty in witnessing the Egyptian war. Right here, perhaps it would be appropriate to say something about the magnificent view that we get from our window. We can see a great deal of the coast from the window, yes, a great deal, though possibly not quite so distinctly as persons, permanent boarders, for instance, in other parts of the house. For example we would say that a full grown man in the street below appears no larger than a fly, while a thousand ton steamer coming to the wharf (a few hundred feet from the hotel) looks like a toy boat. We have been some what puzzled to account for this strange phenomenon, but we are wandering from our text, viz., "champs and customs of Bar Harbor." A word about the "acop the party" if they tell not whether do they spin, yet Solomon in all his glory never had a suit of clothes like one of these B.H.s. a.s.

One of their customs is somewhat as follows: Something between a nightshirt and an ulcer covered with burlap, stockings and canvas shoes, while their head gear bears a close resemblance to a policeman's helmet. Imagine a fat man with the above costume, and you have the average Bar Harbor society man.

In regard to the customs, they have none except to "how" (row), to wide (ride) and to sit on the piazzas talking nonsense.

We are having many novel experiences here. Upon arriving here yesterday noon we of course were trying to find a good hotel (as something less than $500 a day). The ———— House overlooking the harbor seemed to fill the bill. We interviewed the landlord who said that he had a room which we could have until Thursday at what appeared to us the very reasonable charge of $200 per day, including first-class board. He took us up stairs and showed us an apartment, elegantly furnished with a three-legged bed, a wash stand and a (so called) bed, (the last named article being already occupied by a dog.)

He did not discourage us, as we thought we could get along if the feed was good, so concluded to wait till after dinner. Of all dinners! Oh, what you could have been there. We had cold chowder, meat and bean pie. We paid our bill and "it out" having stopped just thirty-five minutes. We went to the Rock House, got dinner and have remained here ever since.

Our great next aim is "The Lunch-fests, revenge or how we get outside the bill of fare three times a day." We are the surprise and horror of all the boarders, being the first ones out to the dining hall, and the last ones out. Those who formerly laid about until ten, now get up at seven, so as to be down stairs, before we get inside. The waiter recites a long list of dishes and sometimes, by the time she gets to the end of the list, we forget some of those first mentioned, and in that way skip some of the articles, but by closely observing our neighbors, we catch on to the meaning and immediately order. Hereafter when she tells us what she has, we shall say "Everything, and a large order of it," and in that way get the "bulge on the kitchen."

But enough of this. We must have sleep, and as we have to get up at nine must say.

Good Night,
DON PERDUE AND HORSE NAIL.

Two revenue officers have visited Scituate this week and it is said found four places where either drink or cigars were sold without United States license. One party, we understand, had beer in his house for his own and family use, but had never sold a glass until the officers called, and not then until after they begged pretty hard for it. These two glasses cost the man over $500. A bitter experience.

SCITUATE.

Merritt took a barge load to Nantasket Sunday.

Eddie Edson caught a halibut, Tuesday, weighing 51 lbs.

Miss Abbie L. Breed of Lynn is stopping with Roland Turner, Esq.

Mrs. N. T. Freeman of So. Boston is visiting at Benjamin Brown's at the Centre.

Notice the advertisement to Nantasket Beach, in another column.

Mr. Chas. Chubbuck was on the sick list last week, but is now about again.

Almon F. Litchfield who has been at work in Rockland has returned to Scituate.

Miss Estelle Curtis of Quincy made a short visit with friends in Scituate last week.

R. L. is stopping with his son, B. Frank Pierce, Esq.

Rev. Will C. Wood will preach next Sabbath on "Total Depravity." What is it? Is it true?

Rev. Daniel Chubbuck conducted the evening meeting at the M. E. Church, Sunday evening.

Mr. Clarence Pierce of Providence, R. I., spent Tuesday with his brother, Mr. B. Frank Pierce.

Mr. Eben Barre has come out with his butcher cart newly painted. Burrows and Prouty did the job.

In another column may be found the obituary of Mr. Chas. Jenkins, a former resident of Scituate.

Congregational singing has been adopted at the M. E. Church under the leadership of Mr. Henry Young.

Andrew O. Waterman, clerk in the warehouse of Abram French & Co., Boston, is at home on a two weeks' vacation.

Arrivals at the Edson House: C. F. Tilly, Springfield; Geo. D. Green, Ludlow, Me.; Bishop, Boston; Richard K. Vaughan, Norwood.

Mr. Edward O. Cooke and wife are stopping at the Bradford Springs Hotel, Bradford, N. H., for a few weeks.

We have received the compliments of Miss Edw. Louise Dugan, born July 7, '82, in the shape of a card upon which is her name and time of birth.

The yacht "Veronica," arrived Saturday evening and is to remain for a time. The master, Capt. Chas. Trainer, thinks of cruising along our shore for a time.

In another column may be found the advertisement of J. T. Clements, who has recently opened a lively stable here, and also runs a barge to and from the trains.

Arrivals at the Highlands Cottage: Mrs. L. A. Wright, Miss H. F. Wright, Columbus, Mich.; Miss L. A. Watling, Columbus, Ohio; Miss F. A. French, Cleveland, Ohio; F. F. Burr, Charleston.

The Rockland Standard of last week contained five, or more items taken from the Herald, without giving credit. In one of them they located Bailey Visual in So. Scituate.

It is said that a party of young gentlemen serenaded an empty house on So. Scituate beach, Saturday evening. Also, it was too bad the young lads came returned so early to the afternoon. But such is fate.

The following was found of Scituate, in a bottle by T. L. Pratt, Saturday July 30, 1882, Farmer Lyndon, Amos Deane, Thompson Proctor. The latter name was not written distinctly.

Arrivals at the South Shore House: E. J. Jacobs, W. J. Fegan, H. A. Custer, Geo. P. A. Custer, Boston; F. R. Rich, Ella A. Rich, East Boston; Wm. H. Harrison, Fairfax Co., Va.; Libbess Strickland, Chelsea, Mass.

Rev. L. P. Causy preached at the Congregational church last Sabbath morning; and Rev. Mr. Dugan in the evening, and at the M. E. Church in the afternoon. Rev. Wm. C. Wood preached at Blackstone.

According to some who are taking an interest in the butcher's kit for the G. A. R. fair, Mr. Eben Barre (about at present) at the Centennial House for the Ice Pitcher. Well, wait till you hear from Cohasset.

At Greenbush, Monday night, a burglar while attempting to pry open a door of Mr. Arthur Leach's house, received a shot of a revolver from the hands of Mrs. L., which made him howl some, but did not wound him enough to keep him from getting away.

Arrivals at Murphy's House: T. H. Devlin, John B. Rice, South Boston.

Wm. T. Sullivan, wife and child, Edward J. Dowd and sister, M. J. Drie, Col. Dennis Moore and wife, Boston; Thomas Curley and wife, Boston; High lands; Mr. McDonald, Brockton; Mrs. John A. Field, Weymouth.

The sidewalk on Central St. to the depot, is badly in need of repairs, but more especially from the Edson House to Union Hall. The rocks sticking up are very uncomfortable to pedestrians, who travel that street.

Geo. Edson has been full of pleasure particularly lately. He took out a party from Ocean View Farm, Saturday, in the Comet, Saturday evening a moonlight excursion in the Comet, Monday morning a party from the Murphy house fishing, in the afternoon a party to Nantasket, Tuesday a party of children; Wednesday a party from North Scituate.

Letters advertised in Scituate Post Office, Aug. 5: Miss Delia Donahoe, Charley E. Bates, Sarah A. Adams, John J. Hennessey, Miss Nellie Briggs, Steven Vaughn, Albert Sloan, Chas. P. Sisson, Geo. H. Harding, Nellie Hatch, Wm. M. Howard, Chas. D. Jenkins, Mrs. M. J. Litchfield, Mrs. Mary McLean, Mrs. J. Foster, Samuel Nichols, George Monroe, Mrs. J. W. Foster, Mrs. Daniel Chubbuck, Frederick C. Chase.

THE PRESENTS WERE ELEGANT AND NUMEROUS. After the ceremony congratulatory and refreshments followed, and the happy party departed for a tour to Saratoga and the White Mountains.

The affair was a very pleasant one and the entertainment which was afforded by Mrs. DeWitt, sister of the bride, was a most delightful one in every respect.
